

Contents

1. Introduction	9
2. Definition of risks and the possibilities of establishing markets for risks	13
Three types of political risks	13
Business risks	15
3. Financial markets, allocative efficiency and macroeconomic risks ..	16
4. The legal framework for contracts regulating incentives and opportunistic behavior	21
Contracts and efficiency	21
Why are laws needed?	22
Implicit contracts and legal tradition	24
Enabling vs. mandatory rules	24
Implications for economies in transition	29
5. Corporate governance	30
6. Critical institutional categories	34
General considerations	34
A minimal legal framework	36
7. The development of law in transition economies	39
Case descriptions	39
The case of Hungary	39
Requirements for property rights	39
Contents of property rights	39
The case of Estonia	41
Requirements for property rights	41
Contents of property rights	42
Hindrances for establishment of new businesses	45
– An interview study of Estonian firms
8. Separate rules for foreign investors?	47
9. What can the West do?	48
10. Concluding remarks	52
Bibliography	53
Tables	54ff