

CONTENTS

EDITORIAL PREFACE	5
1. INTRODUCTION
the chairman of the Swedish Council for Social Science Research, Torgrny Segerstedt	7
2. THEME NO. 1: WHAT REQUIREMENTS FOR PROTECTION OF INDIVIDUAL DATA ARE REASONABLE?	9
2.1 The Data Inspection Board and Research Claes-Göran Källner	9
2.2 Contribution to Theme No. 1 Kerstin Anér	17
2.3 Individual Wage Statistics and Employers' Obligation to Release Information from an Integrity Point of View Karl-Olof Faxén	25
3. THEME NO. 2: WHAT ARE THE CONSEQUENCES OF DEMAND FOR DATA PROTECTION FOR SOCIAL SCIENCE RESEARCH? WHAT IS THE ROLE OF INDIVIDUAL DATA IN SOCIAL SCIENCE RESEARCH?	31
3.1 Social Research and the Individual's Right to Personal Privacy Pär-Erik Back	31
3.2 The Political Resocialization of Immigrants Project Tomas Hammar	37
3.3 Longitudinal Studies and Their Need for Data Carl-Gunnar Janson	43
3.4 Is There a Need for Longitudinal Studies in the Society of Today? Allan Svensson	49
3.5 Contribution to Theme No. 2 Lars Wohlin	55
3.6 Discussion chairman: Staffan Helmfrid	61
3.7 The Interests of the Swedish Data Act and the Production of Statistics - An Attempt at Analysis Edmund Rapaport	81
3.8 The Right of Privacy and the Need to Understand Vincent P. Barabba	89

4
3.9	Discussion chairman: Ingvar Ohlsson	103
4.	THEME NO. 3: A REVIEW OF CURRENT METHODOLOGICAL DEVELOPMENT	115
4.1	Randomized Response Jan Lanke	115
4.2	Applications of the Randomized Response Technique Sven Eriksson	119
4.3	Combined Questions: An Alternative Data-Gathering Device to Randomized Response for Sensitive Questions Bengt Swensson	127
4.4	Protection of Information Stored in a Computer System Ingemar Ingemarsson	135
4.5	Record Linkage in Longitudinal and Correlational Research: Its Justification and Implications for Individual Privacy Robert F. Boruch	139
4.6	Individual Disclosures from Frequency Tables Ove Frank	175
4.7	Probability Based Disclosures Claes-Magnus Cassel	189
5.	LIST OF PARTICIPANTS	195